A Global Competition Review special report

Axinn Veltrop

Set up as a litigation, antitrust and IP boutique in 1997 by Stephen Axinn, who was head of the Skadden Arps Meagher Slate & Flom antitrust practice. Increasingly involved in cross-border merger transactions. The practice now has a strong telecoms reputation. Worked, notably, with the DoJ on the MCI-WorldCom-Sprint investigation. Other recent work includes, acting for Harcourt General on the sale of its business to Reed Elsevier and Thomson Corp.
