On March 31, Axinn partner Brian Johnson will speak on the “Standard Essential Patents: Can the ITC Provide Remedies to Stop SEP Infringement?” panel at American Conference Institute’s 17th Annual Practitioners’ Think Tank on ITC Litigation & Enforcement.

Panelists will examine the approach and strategic role of the ITC in SEP litigation. Topics of discussion will include:

- The willingness of U.S. District Courts to issue injunctions in patent cases;
- The need to be prepared to point to public interest concerns based on SEP owners’ FRAND (fair, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory) Commitments;
- Analyzing recent SEP case developments and understanding recent policy statements;
- The effects of the fast-paced and frequently expensive discovery and;
- The prospects for future exclusion orders on SEPs.
